WHICH WILL BE PUBLISHED IN The Economics of Peace and Security Journal ('THE JOURNAL')

In order to ensure both the widest dissemination and protection of material published in our Journal, we ask authors to assign to Economists for Peace and Security (UK) [EPSUK] ("us" or "we") the rights of copyright in the articles they contribute. This enables us to ensure protection against infringement. In consideration of the publication of your Article, you agree to the following:

1. You assign to us with full title guarantee all rights of copyright and related rights in your Article. So that there is no doubt, this assignment includes the assignment of the rights (i) to publish, reproduce, distribute, display and store the Article worldwide in all forms, formats and media now known or as developed in the future, including print, electronic and digital forms, (ii) to translate the Article into other languages, create adaptations, summaries or extracts of the Article or other derivative works based on the Article and all provisions elaborated in 1(i) above shall apply in these respects, and (iii) to sublicense all such rights to others. For the avoidance of doubt electronic and digital forms shall include, but not be limited to databases, CD-ROM and in forms accessible via electronic and digital networks and wireless transmission and communication systems.
2. We shall prepare and publish your Article in the Journal. We reserve the right to make such editorial changes as may be necessary to make the Article suitable for publication, or as we reasonably consider necessary to avoid infringing third party rights or law; and we reserve the right not to proceed with publication for whatever reason.
3. You hereby assert your moral rights to be identified as the author of the Article according to the UK Copyright Designs & Patents Act 1988.
4. You retain the rights set out in the Schedule. These are personal rights and cannot be transferred.
5. You warrant that you have secured the necessary written permission from the appropriate copyright owner or authorities for the reproduction in the Article and in the Journal of any text, illustration, or other material. You warrant that, apart from any such third party copyright material included in the Article, the Article is your original work, and does not infringe the intellectual property rights of any other person or entity and cannot be construed as plagiarising any other published work. You further warrant that the Article has not been previously assigned or licensed by you to any third party and without prejudice to the provisions of Clause 3 above you undertake that the fully reference-linked version of scholarly record will not be published elsewhere without our prior written consent.
6. In addition you warrant that the Article contains no statement that is abusive, defamatory, libellous, obscene, fraudulent, nor in any way infringes the rights of others, nor is in any other way unlawful or in violation of applicable laws.
7. You warrant that wherever possible and appropriate, any client or participant in any research or study who is mentioned in the Article has given consent to the inclusion of material pertaining to themselves, and that they acknowledge that they cannot be identified via the Article and that you will not identify them in any way.
8. You shall keep us and our affiliates indemnified in full against all loss, damages, injury, costs and expenses (including legal and other professional fees and expenses) awarded against or incurred or paid by us as a result of your breach of the warranties given in this agreement.

9. You undertake that you will include in the text of the Article an appropriate statement should you have a financial interest or benefit arising from the direct applications of your research.

10. If the Article was prepared jointly with other authors, you warrant that you have been authorised by all co-authors to sign this Agreement on their behalf, and to agree on their behalf the order of names in the publication of the Article. You shall notify us in writing of the names of any such co-owners.

12. This agreement (and any dispute, proceeding, claim or controversy in relation to it) is subject to English law and the jurisdiction of the Courts of England and Wales. It may only be amended by a document signed by both of us.

THE SCHEDULE

The rights that you personally retain as Author

1. the right to be identified as the Author of an article whenever and wherever the Article is published;
2. patent rights, trademark rights, or rights to any process, product or procedure described in an article;
3. the right to share (but not on a commercial or systematic basis) with colleagues print or electronic ‘preprints’ (i.e., versions of the article created prior to peer review) of an unpublished Article, perhaps in the form and content as submitted for publication;
4. the right to post such a ‘preprint’ on your own website, or on your institution’s intranet, or within the Institutional Repository of your institution or company of employment, but only with the following acknowledgement or such other acknowledgement as we may notify to you:

‘This is a preprint of an article submitted for consideration in the Economics of Peace and Security Journal [year of publication] [copyright EPS(UK)]; The Economics of Peace and Security Journal is available online at: <http://www.epsjournal.org.uk>’;

5. the right to retain a preprint version of the Article as specified above following publication in the Journal, on the following condition, and with the following acknowledgement or such other acknowledgement as EPS(UK) may notify to you:

‘This is a preprint of an article whose final and definitive form has been published in The Economics of Peace and Security Journal [year of publication] [copyright EPS(UK)]; The Economics of Peace and Security Journal is available online at: <http://www.epsjournal.org.uk>’;

6. the right to post your revised text version of the ‘postprint’ of the Article (i.e., the Article in the form accepted for publication in the Journal following the process of peer review), after an embargo period of 12 months as an electronic file on an Author’s own website for personal or professional use, or on an Author’s internal university, college, or corporate network or intranet, or within an Institutional or Subject Repository, but not for commercial sale or for any systematic external distribution by a third party (for example a listserv or database connected to a public access server) provided that you include any amendments or deletions or warnings relating to the Article issued or published by us and only with the following acknowledgement or such other acknowledgement as EPS(UK) may notify to you:

‘This is an electronic version of an article published in The Economics of Peace and Security Journal [year of publication] [vol. and issue no.] [page numbers] [copyright EPS(UK)]; The Economics of Peace and Security Journal is available online at: <http://www.epsjournal.org.uk>’.

For the avoidance of doubt, ‘your version’ is the author version and not the publisher-created PDF, HTML or XML version posted as the definitive, final version of scientific record.

7. the right to share with colleagues (but not on a commercial or systematic basis) up to 50 copies of an article in its published form as supplied by EPS(UK) as an electronic or printed offprint or reprint;

8. the right to make printed copies of all or part of an article for use by you for lecture or classroom purposes provided that such copies are not offered for sale or distributed in any systematic way, and provided that acknowledgement to prior publication in the Journal is made explicit;

9. the right to facilitate the distribution of the Article if the Article has been produced within the scope of an Author's employment, so that the Author’s employer may use all or part of the Article internally within the institution or company provided that acknowledgement to prior publication in the Journal is made explicit;

10. the right to include an article in a thesis or dissertation that is not to be published commercially, provided that acknowledgement to prior publication in the Journal is made explicit;

11. the right to present an article at a meeting or conference and to distribute printed copies of the Article to the delegates attending the meeting provided that this is not for commercial purposes and provided that acknowledgement to prior publication in the Journal is made explicit;

12. the right to use the Article in its published form in whole or in part without revision or modification in personal compilations [in print or electronic form] or other publications of an Author’s own articles, provided that acknowledgement to prior publication in the Journal is made explicit;

13. the right to expand an article into book-length form for publication, provided that acknowledgement to prior publication in the Journal is made explicit.
