With this issue, The EPS Journal introduces a new feature, a book review section. Handled via the journal's web site, the section is continually updated and devoted to economic aspects of conflict, war, and peace. The web site contains book reviews (500-1,000 words), book notes (<500 words), and a list of books available for review. The first list of books is listed hereunder. Starred items have already been reviewed, and the reviews are available online. Readers are invited to suggest works for review and to volunteer as reviewers. To do so, please contact me at reviewseeditor@epsjournal.org.uk. We also wish to publish review articles (~3,000 words), especially of particularly noteworthy new books or of comparative reviews of books related to a common theme or topic. If you wish to contribute a review of this sort, please contact me directly as well.
